JAPAN MAY FIGHT ANOTHER POWER SAYS MINISTER

Fisheries of B.C. To Be Debated In the Commons

T. Reid Proposes Reduction of Licenses Issued to Japanese

Quotes Report On Inquiry of 1922

Ottawa (CP)—A resolution urging steps to reduce the number of Japanese engaged in British Columbia fishing industry appeared on the list of resolutions, questions and notices of motion appearing on the first issue of the Parliamentary Votes and Proceedings today.

The resolution was entered by Thomas Reid, Liberal, New Westminster.

A commission which reported on the industry in 1922 recommended curtailment of the number of licenses issued to Japanese, but the resolution claims no effort has been made to implement this recommendation since 1927. The resolution asks that "as the fishing industry in British Columbia is still today largely in the hands of Japanese fishermen, and particularly in the Fraser River area, all fishing licenses issued to Japanese, or those of Japanese origin, be reduced by not less than 40 per cent during the present year, and by 15 per cent in each year following, and continued until such time as the recommendation made by the royal commission is carried out and the fishing industry of British Columbia is in the hands of white Canadian fishermen."

POLICE HOLD THREE MEN

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three men were held for investigation here today in connection with an attempted raid on the Johnson National Storage Company's garage here Thursday night. The men were arrested after the garage watchman reported two men had attempted to steal a drum of oil from the premises.

Fifty Crawl Along Collapsed Bridge

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Fifty persons, mostly youths, risked injury today as they scampered over the collapsed Falls View Bridge as it lay on the Niagara Gorge ice, estimated about 100 feet thick. They sought souvenirs of the structure which fell Thursday.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—A new and greater "honeymoon" bridge was planned at Niagara Falls today even as the gaunt skeleton of the old bridge which crashed Thursday continued to groan and settle into the ice-covered river.

The International Railway Company, owners of the fallen span, announced engineers would be asked at once to design a new and finer span.

It will rise from the site of the 39-year-old steel arch which crashed almost 200 feet into the Niagara Gorge Thursday afternoon after it had resisted for two days the worst Niagara ice jam in many years.

Traffic Control Head Is Named

H. L. Swan, Victoria, Takes New Provincial Post February 1

The appointment of H. L. Swan, district engineer at Victoria for the B.C. Department of Public Works, as full-time traffic administrator for the department at Vancouver, was announced today by Premier Pattullo, acting Minister of Public Works.

Mr. Swan will take over his new duties February 1. His successor here has not been named. There may be several changes in the public works staff, which will await the return of Hon. F. M. MacPherson, the minister, who is holidaying in Honolulu.

The appointment of Mr. Swan creates a new position, necessitated because of the big increase in truck and commercial traffic in the last few years, it was explained. It involves the licensing and regulating of heavy traffic on the highways under Part 5 of the Highway Act.

Up to the present this work has been administered from here with an honorary advisory board consisting of W. F. McClintock, Elmer Johnson and Hugh Dalton. The board will continue to act.

JOHN A. MCLELLAN

Native Son Named New Police Head

Inspector J. A. McLellan Appointed to Succeed Late Thomas Heatley

John A. McLellan, a member of the City Police Department for 27 years and inspector of detectives since 1931, was appointed chief of the department by the City Police Commission this afternoon.

Inspector McLellan has been acting chief for the last two months, and succeeds the late Chief Thomas Heatley.

John H. Rogers was appointed Chief of Detectives to fill the vacancy made by Mr. McLellan's promotion.

A native son of Victoria, Inspector McLellan's promotion follows a period of active association with the police department.

He is 49 and the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. B. McLellan.

He joined the uniform ranks of the department on May 17, 1911, serving under the late chief, J. M. Laing.

In 1921 he was made a member of the detective department under former Chief John Fry and five years later was made a sergeant.

When Chief Heatley was promoted to that rank in 1931, he recommended the appointment of Inspector McLellan to the head of the plain clothes department and his recommendation was adopted by the commission of that day.

Since that time he has been head of the plain clothes branch and has at all times directed investigations into major crime.

He is married and has two children and resides at 2306 Shakespeare Street.

HALLOWEEN SENTENCE

REGINA (CP)—The charge against him reduced from murder by a jury, Jacob Daum, 66-year-old Southery man, was sentenced today to 2½ years in the Prince Albert penitentiary for manslaughter by Mr. Justice G. E. Taylor. The charge arose from fatal shooting of Gordon Anderson, 19, at Southery last Halloween.

Bigger Japanese Army at Peiping

PEIPING, North China (AP)—Twenty thousand more Japanese troops are being brought to the Peiping area, to be quartered on the campus of Tsinghua University, reliable informants said Friday.

Japanese troops presently occupy four of Peiping's five universities. Soldiers withdrew from the fifth, the National Normal School, three days ago.

CANADA LOAN NOT ALL TAKEN

One-third of £10,000,000 Conversion Issue Left With British Underwriters

LONDON (CP)—About one-third if the recent £10,000,000 (£50,000,000) Canadian conversion loan was not taken up by the public, it was learned today, leaving £3,938,200 allotted to the underwriters.

The quotation of the market today of 2% to 2½ discount was holding firmly and the consensus is that the balance of the issue will be absorbed rapidly.

Market and banking officials pointed out that the loan, which was at 3½ per cent interest had appeared during a bad week in international markets and that the slight discount on the first day of trading proved better than might have been expected.

When the loan was first offered on the market the opinion was expressed that its issue price of 98½ was a least half a point too high. The nature of the loan and the long term (1958 to 1963) are believed to have made it unattractive to banks and financial houses and, the adverse market conditions of the week dissuaded private investors.

SINKING FUNDS

Actually the public accepted only about 49 per cent of the loan as the Canadian government re-invested £2,054,041 from the sinking funds of the Dominion's sterling loans. That portion, therefore, was not underwritten.

Informers assert the underwriters are not worrying about the leftover as today's discount still does not reach their 1 per cent commission and every indication is that the remainder of the issue will be sold short.

A prominent British financier of Canadian birth said the amount left over "does not look nice, but it is no reflection on British faith in Canada, merely a close-priced issue appearing in a ghastly week."

The market announcement found a mixed reception. The Financial News, in an editorial, said the British investors were likely to forget there had been distinctly unsettling financial developments within the Dominion

in recent years.

OTTAWA CAUCUS

OTTAWA (CP)—Conservative Leader Bennett met his House supporters today at the first Opposition caucus of the session.

Extra Millions For Defences of U.S.

Roosevelt Asks $800,000,000 For Navy and $17,330,000 More For Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt asked the United States Congress today to authorize millions of new expenditures on the navy's fighting force and army's land defences to bolster armaments he termed "inadequate for purposes of national security."

Outstanding among the President's requests for armed "protection" based "not on aggression but on defence" was a 20 per cent increase in the navy building program.

Navy officials estimated the cost would be $800,000,000.

ARMY EXPANSION

Mr. Roosevelt also recom-manded spending $17,330,000 for betterment of the army, including

$8,800,000 for anti-aircraft material.

The program he outlined calls for building two additional battleships and two additional cruisers during the calendar year 1938.

Mr. Roosevelt estimated, in discussing the message at a press conference, the cost of entire new long-range program would be "useful to the enemy."

CONCILIATOR APPOINTED

Operation of New B.C. Labor Disputes Law Watched

British Columbia's new industrial disputes conciliation and arbitration act is now in operation for the first time.

James Thomson, a member of the Board of Industrial Relations, has been appointed conciliation officer to deal with two Vancouver disputes, the labor department said today.

One dispute affects a number of fuel delivery companies and their employees, and the other is the case of the Chanticleer Lunch.

According to the procedure as laid down by the act Mr. Thomson's duty is to seek a peaceful settlement of the dispute. If he fails in the attempted conciliation by police early today, the suspect was scheduled to appear in an identification line-up.

The working of the conciliation plan in the present disputes is being watched with interest here as it will indicate the effectiveness of the new labor law.

usually rose through the difficult years to become president of the Montreal Star and the Family Herald and Weekly Star.

The rosy-complexioned little man who had known the difficulties of pioneer printing, through the days when they used horses to power the old press, became an ardent campaigner. And he used his journals to wage campaigns for public health development, the best remembered of which was his successful fight for pasteurization of city milk.

MEMBER OF BOARDS

But his associations were not confined to the newspapers. Numerous financial directorates included his name. No one knew the extent to which his financial affiliations reached. He was a quiet man, of unassuming attitude, who never lost his affection for the men who worked with him in the pioneer period.

They still found employment around his office. It was for his humaneness the people of Montreal best knew him. They knew him, for instance, as the little fighting man who waged relentless war to gain proper care for those afflicted with tuberculosis. And he fought just as hard to prevent spread of the disease.

He was the storybook type of newspaper owner and publisher. His papers always were involved in campaigns, demanding something or other for the citizens of Montreal. He wanted the streets cleared of snow, gamblers ousted, bookmaking shops closed, bootleggers rounded up—anything in the interest of the city.

In 1929, with the late George T. Lanigan, Hugh Graham acquired the Montreal Evening Star. The two young men ran a little four-page paper on a flatbed press, printing one side at a time. The press was operated literally by one-horse power, an old and obstreperous white nag, brought in from the pastures of Huntington, being used for this purpose.

Lanigan dropped out early in the game over a difference of opinion in a matter of policy. He wanted the paper to favor annexation of Canada to the United States, but Mr. Graham opposed the suggestion, being then as throughout his life a solid Imperialist, with the dream of a permanent round-the-world British democracy in which some day the Dominion might play the ruling part.

Watson described how the five of them had driven to Cook and Quadra Streets, then over to Cloverdale, where the car was stopped and the money split up. Both Macdonald and Watson testified West had most of the money and had handed it around as it was split up. There was about $15 in all.

Macdonald testified the juvenile had given his money to him (Macdonald) the next day, saying he did not want it.

Questioned by his counsel, Fred B. Elliott, as to whether the evidence of Macdonald and Watson was true, West, taking the stand in his own defence, said: "There is no truth in it."

He testified he did not know Macdonald and had first seen him the night he was arrested and taken to police headquarters.

On the night of January 20, he said he had come home from work to the house where he stayed, and after supper dressed to go out.

He said he went to the poolroom about 7.30 and there met McMillan. Watson might have been in the poolroom, but he was not seen.

SEPARATED IN THEATRE

He testified he went to the Columbia Theatre with McMillan about 8 o'clock. When they first went into the theatre they sat at the back, but West testified he had left McMillan to take a seat about the centre. He said he had met McMillan when he came out of the show about 10 o'clock.

The show over, he said, he and McMillan stayed in the theatre for the show.

After the show he said he went back to the poolroom and then went home, getting to bed about 11 o'clock.

McMillan was arrested up Island and pleaded guilty when he was arraigned on the charge this morning.

Sentences on the three that pleaded guilty will be passed to-morrow morning.

HAND-TO-HAND
BATTLE IN SPAINFighting Rages on Front
Near Teruel; Few Canadians Reported Captured

HENDAYE, France, At the Spanish Frontier (AP)—Forty thousand Spanish government and insurgent troops fought hand-to-hand today on a five-mile section of the eastern front.

Repeated government charges threatened to sever an important insurgent supply artery between the villages of Singra and Torre la Carcel, about 30 miles north of Teruel.

Waves of government troops swept down from the Palomera Mountains and assailed insurgents defending the five miles of highway between the two Aragon villages. Thirty tanks, 600 field guns and 120 airplanes aided the ground forces.

The government strategy was to strike at a number of points along the line simultaneously. One of these thrusts, the government said, isolated several thousand insurgent troops in the Celadas sector, eight miles north of Teruel.

SAY CANADIANS TAKEN

Dispatches from insurgent sources said that Franco's troops defending the Calamocha-Teruel highway had captured an undetermined number of North American volunteers during an unsuccessful government assault on one point of the line.

The Americans, with a few Canadians, were said to have been among 300 prisoners taken during the engagement.

EXTRA MILLIONS FOR DE-
$29,000,000 during the fiscal year that will begin next July 1.

The President's recommendations are in addition to two battleships and eight cruisers already under construction and two more battleships and two more cruisers to be authorized in the 1939 naval appropriation bill, now pending in Congress.

WOULD END PROFITS

The President coupled with his request for better national defense a recommendation Congress provide for taking the profits of war and for "the equalization of burdens of possible war."

He said he recommended increased armaments "specifically and solely because of the piling up of additional land and sea armaments in other countries, in such manner as to involve a threat to world peace and security."

He said that while as "a peaceful nation," the country would not abandon "active search" for agreements among the nations to limit armaments and end aggression, "it is clear that until such agreement is reached—and I have not given up hope of it—we are compelled to think of our own national safety."

TO KEEP ENEMY AWAY

Mr. Roosevelt said it was necessary to realize the "unfortunate world conditions of today have resulted too often in the discarding of those principles and treaties which underlie international law and order; and in the entrance of many new factors into the actual conduct of war."

"Adequate defence speaks," he said, "that for the protection not only of our coasts but also of our territories far removed from the coast, we must keep a potential enemy many hundred miles away from our continental limits."

"We cannot assume that our defence would be limited to one ocean and one coast and that the other ocean and the other coast would with certainty be safe."

BILL OFFERED

A bill introduced at the time the message was read would authorize building of 47 more fighting ships and the purchase of 1,000 more naval airships. Chairman Vinson of the naval committee, author of the measure, said the result would be the addition to the fleet of three battleships of 35,000 tons each, two 15,000-ton aircraft carriers, eight cruisers, 25 destroyers and nine submarines.

The program thus envisages a naval fighting force of 18 battleships, eight carriers, 47 cruisers, 147 destroyers, 58 submarines and 3,000 airplanes.

In addition, it calls for the construction of 22 auxiliary vessels. They include five destroyer tenders, three submarine tenders, four large and seven small seaplane tenders, and three repair ships. An appropriation of $15,000,000 would be authorized for construction of experimental vessels of no more than 3,000 tons each.

New York Thugs
Take $24,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Four robbers, one armed with a machine gun, held up three employees of the United States Lines on a Hudson River pier today and escaped in an auto with a $24,000 pay-roll.

The money was taken from an assistant timekeeper, Arthur Calmon, and two uniformed guards, James Sharkey and Harry Reed.

MEN WHO LOST
MONEY TESTIFY

A. Forbes, Formerly of Cobble Hill, B.C., Heard at Fraud Trial in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The prosecution sought today through two witnesses to place James C. McKay—squarely in the Reno, Nev., swindling ring claimed by the government to have cost Canadians and American victims at least $2,500,000.

Frederick C. Bray of Guernsey, Sask., a farmer, who allegedly was euchered out of $21,000 by the self-styled "under-world gentleman," Noble John Moore, identified McKay as the man to whom he had been introduced to the Reno Riverside Bank just before his money took flight.

Allister Forbes of Plymouth, England, a former rancher of Cobble Hill, Vancouver Island, and victim of a $30,000 swindle in the fall of 1929, said he, too, had been introduced to McKay in the bank by one of the swindlers.

The government charges the confidence man, the late Walter G. Kelly, who was using the alias of H. H. Stoneman, introduced his prospective victim, Forbes, because McKay and William J. Graham could expedite the cashing of securities and cheques of victims, receiving in return 15 per cent of the profits.

Victims of various confidence schemes, mostly elderly persons whose savings were sapped by their credulity, awaited turns to testify against the alleged international ring of bunco-stealers at their third trial.

Freer Trade Is Urged By Paish

Steps to Avoid Slump in Britain Advocated By Economist

LONDON. (CP) — A slump absolutely without parallel in the world's history will follow unless Great Britain's export trade is restored, in the opinion of Sir George Paish, noted economist.

However, if the proper remedies are applied, there need be no fresh slump, Sir George emphasized in an address to members of the Aldwych Club Thursday.

Sir George listed three changes as necessary to avert the disaster: Greater willingness to buy foreign products and induce other countries to do the same; re-opening of the capital market, and expansion of credit. World peace also is essential, he added.

Rearmament was taking place, not only because of the foreign situation, but because it was necessary to find a means of maintaining Britain's trade, the economist declared.

He predicted decline of the current building boom in Britain and its eventual collapse.

Apple Growers' Request Heard

B.C. and Nova Scotia Ministers Tell Ottawa British Preference Needed

OTTAWA (CP) — Agriculture Ministers K. C. MacDonald of British Columbia and J. A. McDonald of Nova Scotia asked Revenue Minister Isley and Agriculture Minister Gardiner of the Dominion government Thursday to guard interests of apple growers in the two provinces in any revision of British trade treaties.

Growers in the two provinces are alarmed that Canadian apples may lose their preference, or a large part of it, in the United Kingdom market, the federal ministers were told.

The Empire trade treaties were followed by imposition by the United Kingdom of a tariff of four shillings and sixpence a hundredweight on foreign apples Empire apples go in free.

The Nova Scotia minister presented a brief to the federal ministers regarding the benefits of the preference.

Following the interview, Mr. McDonald made this statement:

"We put forward our case as best we could. We pointed out how the United Kingdom market meant so much to the fruit industry. In the last five years an average of 86.9 per cent of the Nova Scotia apple crop has been exported to the United Kingdom. British Columbia exports 50 per cent and it is important to Ontario and Quebec.

Oak Bay Relief Figures Drop

Relief expenditures in Oak Bay dropped during 1937, compared with the year before, the council learned yesterday when the relief officer's annual report was presented.

Figures given, however, did not include materials or administrative cheques or medical aid, drugs, funeral and charitable grants. In this way the total cost of relief was difficult to arrive at.

For the last three months of 1937 '38 persons, with 122 dependents, were on relief rolls, compared with 124 persons with 220 dependents for the same period in 1936.

A fire, which burned out 20 acres of thick coal in the Little Thunder Basin region in Wyoming, destroyed coal amounting to 2,700,000 tons.

The Session

THE THIRD SESSION OF THE 18TH Parliament of Canada which Lord Tweedsmuir opened yesterday with customary pomp and circumstance bids fair to be one in which an unusually large volume of business will be discussed. One of the most encouraging statements in the Governor-General's Speech from the Throne was that which recalled the fact that Canada's economic recovery, which began in earnest two years ago, has been maintained and is showing every sign of continuance. This has meant a reduction in the number of unemployed, greater industrial activity, and a more buoyant business outlook generally.

It is hoped that negotiations will have proceeded sufficiently to enable the government to present to the House the details of a new trade treaty with the United States. The reference to this highly-important matter in the Speech is far from definite. The explanation for this, we take it, is that the negotiations about to begin between Great Britain and the United States for a new economic and trading pact of their own will have to be studied carefully by Canada before she finally finds herself in a position to agree to terms with the Washington government.

Allied with general external trade matters are the findings of the Royal Commission appointed to inquire into conditions in the Canadian textile industry. Great Britain, for example, wants this country to open her doors wider for the admission of the goods when Lancashire and Yorkshire produce in abundance. It is not too much to say, perhaps, that upon the measure of compromise which Canada's textile industry is prepared to make will depend to a considerable extent the attitude Britain will take, to mention two groups of commodities, toward Canadian forest and orchard products.

By no means unexpected, of course, is the intimation that legislation will be introduced at the present session to strengthen the principle—recognized as fundamental for more than a quarter of a century—of parliamentary control of the export of electrical power. This may be considered the sequel to the recent controversy between Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Ontario's Premier Mitchell Hepburn. The Ottawa government leader refused to issue permission for the export of additional energy to the United States until Parliament had been consulted. Mr. Hepburn became annoyed—but the incident soon subsided. Mr. King's declaration that the supremacy of Parliament must be upheld settled the matter for the time being.

It is interesting to learn the government proposes to extend efforts to assist in the training of the unemployed youth of the country. So far the success of this branch of its economic rehabilitation works has more than justified the financial outlay involved. It has equipped thousands of young people with technical and semi-technical knowledge upon which they may draw as they find their niche in the working structure of the Dominion.

For the workers in general is the proposal of the government before the session ends to present to the House legislation to provide unemployment insurance. In the case of most measures having for their object the betterment of the lot of the worker, the promise of bitter attack soon makes its appearance. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association has thrown its weight against the suggested plan, intimating to the government that it will cost the country $165,000,000 a year to operate it, while Premier Duplessis of Quebec is shaking a warning fist that any tampering with the British North America Act will arouse his own and his province's ire.

It is understood by this time that a Speech from the Throne is conspicuous more for what it does not contain than for what it does. The contents of the one now under consideration by the public of this country, however—were they only the items to which we have referred—include sufficient material to keep the elected representatives of the people busy until well into the summer months.

Count Suzannet

NEWS OF THE TRAGIC DEATH OF Count Jean de Suzannet in Paris yesterday brought a very real and poignant sense of personal loss to a wide circle in this city. Distinguished soldier of France, traveler, scholar and lecturer, he was the true cosmopolite—kindly, courtly, and tolerant.

During his 10 years' residence in Victoria Count Suzannet identified himself with the cultural life of the community as a generous patron of the arts, proved himself an all-round sportsman—in every sense of the term—and on innumerable occasions gave with almost prodigal generosity to projects designed to assist the general well-being. Nor is it too much to say that the recipients of his private benefactions were legion.

Count Suzannet leaves behind him in Victoria an enduring monument—the memory of a gallant gentleman indelibly enshrined in the hearts of all with whom he came in contact. The Times sincerely associates itself with the many expressions of sympathy which will be tendered to his widow and family in the irreparable loss they have sustained.

Leave Us Out

SINCE WHEN HAS A RADIO ANNOUNCER at Ottawa had the authority to tell the people of Australia that while it is midsummer in the southern Commonwealth, Canada is covered with a mantle of snow, in many cases, several feet deep? This was the information conveyed to our Australian cousins last night just before Prime Minister Mackenzie King tendered the felicitations of the government and the people of this Dominion to Australia on the attainment of her 150th birthday.

We respectfully suggest to the radio announcer in question that he be careful in future to mention that his remarks about snow may be quite applicable to many parts of Canada, but not to Vancouver Island, or for many miles of territory eastward from Vancouver. In the third largest city of Canada and in the capital city of British Columbia, pleasant golf was being played yesterday in temperatures between 44 and 46 above zero—and no snow!

This Poor Old World

LOCAL ADHERENTS TO THE CAUSE OF British-Israelism were told the other night by Captain Herbert Gresham Gray that there is a general belief in England that Canada will be the Belgium of the next war. He is also disturbed because he feels the approaching end of the world. He cites biblical and pyramidal prophecy and the recent display of the Aurora Borealis as sinister signs of the early end of all things.

The following extract from the report of Captain Gray's address indicates his state of mind over these things, and what he thinks Japan's intentions are likely to be: "What shall we do, shall we fly or shall we stay and battle?" he asked. The last chapter of the Bible said the righteous would be borne out and he believed that Israel and those who believed should stay and battle and would be protected.

"I have seen visions of these yellow dwarfs seething through our midst," the speaker continued. There was no telling when they would come and despite the fact that Canadian authorities had authorized a $35,000,000 spending on big guns these would not be ready for a year "and what's going to happen in the meantime?" he asked.

The poor old world's end has been predicted so many times in the last thousand years or so that we positively refuse to get excited about Captain Gray's misgivings. But it is not improper to remind him that there are still many very sensitive people who can be easily upset by what purport to be authentic prophetic utterances.

Touched Bottom?

THE FOURTH WEEK OF THE NEW year has been characterized, broadly speaking, by a continuance in the United States of the business trends marked out in the first two weeks.

In short, says Business Week, industry seems to have found at least a temporary base line. The 1937 decline, so swift that analysts had to go back to the crisis of 1907 to find a parallel, culminated in a sharp drop in the final week of the year. There the indexes met what the stock market calls a resistance point.

Business is now moving sideways; at worst there is a welcome breathing spell and at best the lows may have been seen. This is better news for Canada as well as the United States.

"Saving" China From "Reds"

HOW JAPAN IS SAVING CHINA FROM COMMUNISM is revealed in a New York Sun dispatch from its correspondent, A. T. Steele, in Peking:

"It is an ironic fact that when the Japanese began the China war six months ago under the pretext of wiping out Communism and anti-Japanism there were no Reds in the north except in the universities. Now they are scattered through the mountains of Shansi, Suyuan and Hopei and it will take years of military effort to root them out—if ever."

Notes

So live that you need never ask the public to wait for judgment until all the facts are brought out.

Chinese officials insist China's finances are sound. But not as sound, probably, as they have a yen for them to be.

Chinese army officials say they expect the Japanese "big push" any day. Well, they haven't been exactly pulling backwards these last months.

INJUSTICE TO RADIO LISTENERS

From Toronto Telegram

There has been no improvement in the Canadian radio to warrant raising the license fees from $1 to $2, but already the Broadcast Corporation's proven ability to spend money has forced on the Canadian radio listener another boost in the radio tax as an alternative to a deluge of advertising.

Living next door to a great country which has no radio tax, Canadians are likely to keenly resent a further increase in a tax which has always been regarded as a nuisance. Nor is there any guarantee that, if the tax is raised, advertising will be dropped from national hook-ups.

If its revenue from the radio tax was insufficient to maintain the CBC in the manner to which it had been accustomed, resort to advertising was not the only alternative. Another course open to it was to limit its expenditures to the $1,500,000 a year that it got from radio fees. This was so novel a course for a government organization that apparently it was overlooked.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

POOR EXILE

THE PARK AUTHORITIES of Victoria must often lie awake at night thinking of the sorrow and suffering they have caused to poor, dumb animals.

There is the case of Ursus Kermode, too well known to require explanation here, a hideous blot on our local civilization, a strong indication that we're not civilized. Now comes a sordid tale from Fort St. John, where the park authorities sent a buffalo calf from Beacon Hill. Her name was "Victoria Peace," and it was said she would marry and settle down and enjoy a fine free life in the north.

Dispatches from Fort St. John this week say that "Victoria Peace" is still a spinster, still alone, unmarried and childless. There are no buffaloes up that way for her to marry and the report to the Vancouver Province says she refused to marry a Hereford, gentleman or even a Holstein, as some of her race have done on the prairies. "As the years passed," says the dispatch, "Fort St. John people were cheered with the hope that she might perhaps mate with a moose, or a caribou. But now Fort St. Johners have given up all hope of a little catalo, a moose or even a caribou."

I hope the park authorities lie awake a lot after that.

PHILIPPIC

MR. D. W. HERRIDGE, who used to be Canadian Minister to Washington and who possibly would like to be Prime Minister of Canada, is out with another of his philosophies—against the state of the country. He says we are heading straight for Fascism in Canada because we are doing nothing fundamental about our problems, and he says we need a new approach to meet the challenge of these times.

There have been mixed responses to Mr. Herridge's rather tremendous outburst, and mixed views on his solutions, which, by the way, are not reported, and certainly not generally understood. But whatever you may think about that, Mr. Herridge is right in his central notion—that we have not done anything basic in Canada about our problems.

Indeed, as the present recession proceeds, the most obvious fact apparent to all and most tragic, is that the previous one taught us nothing. We went into this one, of course, much less prepared than into the last, in a purely economic sense, for which there may be some excuse; but in an intellectual sense we ought to have traveled a little since 1929. There is no sign in government that we have, or that we know any more about our affairs now than we did then. But we share an illusion of progress and we create an appearance of wisdom by doing nothing and looking very profound.

Anybody can do that in good times. Any government can get along fine with revenues zooming up and most people at work. That is no test of governments or of ordinary people. The test comes when things are bad. All our Canadian governments have yet to meet that test. Maybe they won't look so wise then.

These things go in waves. Anyone who has observed the scene in Canada for the last seven years could see how the will to reform died almost in the night as soon as the depression showed the least sign of abating. With the first rise in stocks, the first drop in unemployment, the politicians heaved a sigh of relief, put all their solutions and reforms away in the toy box and went to sleep.

They were wise. They knew that as soon as the public had a full tummy, it wouldn't ask for anything more. They knew that all the notions of real change and reconstruction which flourished in bad times, which grew when people's tummies were empty and their heads clear, would collapse with the first raise in pay. They did. And apparently the last depression, which promised so much, wasn't worth while after all. In fact, it is hardly worth repeating.

SALMON RUN

From Cowichan Leader
Seagulls shrieking above the muddy current, small boys hurrying towards the river with looks of anticipation—these are signs of one of Cowichan's greatest natural phenomena, the annual run of chum or "dog" salmon.

Other signs are an odor of putrid flesh along the river banks, eyeless heads on the ends of twisted spines whitening among the boulders, and in the still shallows the dull, hopeless flap of a dying fish's tail.

This is the end of a great migration that brings the dog salmon—an outcast, lightly regarded fish—back to the stream where it had its birth, to lay its eggs and die.

The process is reaching its annual climax now, and may be seen in all the streams of the district, for the run is late this year and the fish have not yet all completed their cycle and died.

It is a smaller run than usual, too, and this is attributed to the floods three years ago, which scoured out the gravel and destroyed millions of eggs.

The dog salmon spawn mostly in the lower reaches of the river, few having the energy to surmount Skutz Falls. They are described by the fish warden as "lazy" fish, but their reputation for being "no account" probably comes from their ugliness and little commercial value.

The Indians catch many of them and are busy now spearing all they can get, having been forbidden to use nets since the beginning of the year because the steelhead are running and the Fishery Department wants to preserve these for the sport of anglers.

A NEW WORD
From Winnipeg Tribune
A Washington official has coined a new word—polopoly. If one man or one business dominates a trade situation so as to be able to fix prices in that trade, that, he points out, properly is called a monopoly. Therefore, if several different individuals or businesses, working in cahoots, achieve the same results, that, he argues, is polopoly.

New School Plan— Staff Is Given Raise

Esquimalt Trustees Give Increase of 5 Per Cent; Lockley Urges Change

A blanket increase of 5 per cent in teachers' salaries, in partial restoration of depression-time cuts totaling 15 per cent, was voted by the 1938 Esquimalt School Board at its first meeting last night. Reeve A. Lockley, a member of the board, was the only one to oppose the increase.

At the same time the board gave favorable attention to and filed for further consideration a plan submitted by one trustee for a complete reorganization of the municipality's school system.

The salary raise affects 13 high and elementary school teachers and the school nurse. Three teachers who joined the staff during the current school year are not affected.

In addition the board voted further salary increases to two teachers by way of equalization with the pay cheques of other staff members of equal standing. The two in question came to Esquimalt at the time the annual salary increments were dropped with the result their pay remained low in proportion to that of the others.

CHANGES SUGGESTED

Reeve Lockley submitted a written brief listing the following suggestions for alterations to the present school system in Esquimalt:

1. The abolition of the present High School building as such, and its conversion into a separate unit for Grade 1, 2 and 3 of the elementary school.

2. Transfer of the four high school classes to the upper floor of the Lampson Street School, with provision of extra sanitary and laboratory facilities.

3. Supervision of the new unit at Lampson Street under the single headship of the present headmaster of the school as far as discipline is concerned, but autonomy for the elementary and high school principals in matters of curriculum and study.

4. Inclusion of manual training and home economics in the high school course.

5. Expansion of vocational training, with the possible use of the workshops at the naval barracks.

6. Formation of a park-like playing ground between Lampson Street and Head Street.

GRADE 9 PROBLEM

In explaining his plan Reeve Lockley said the new arrangement would make for better discipline and supervision, and at the same time would alter the at present unsatisfactory position of Grade 9, housed in the Lampson Street building though belonging to the high school, with the necessity of high school teachers going backward and forward between the two buildings.

He felt that manual training and home economics were of special value in a municipality like Esquimalt, whose population was largely made up of working people, and that they could be profitably continued from the elementary into the high school.

The suggestion for the park would apply in the event of the property opposite the Lampson Street School reverting to the municipality.

The Reeve in his brief also went on record as favoring equalization of salaries, but as opposing any blanket increase.

The Esquimalt Council last night tabled for further consideration a letter from the City Council on the subject of transportation in Greater Victoria. Reeve Alexander Lockley suggested he be given the opportunity for discussion with the reeves of Saanich and Oak Bay before any action is taken.

NEW COUNCIL TAKES OFFICE

Light and Power Committee Added to Saanich List This Year

Reeve R. R. Taylor and his administrative body for 1938 are shown here as they settled down for work in the council chamber yesterday. From left to right are: Councillor W. Len Woodhouse, P. Archie Gibbs and Richard Angus; R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk; Reeve R. R. Taylor, A. S. G. Musgrave, municipal engineer; Thomas Watt, superintendent of works, and Councillors William Ellis, J. V. Johnson and P. Vernon-Jackson.

Members of the Esquimalt Council shown above at their places around the council table. They are: From left to right, Councillors R. G. Humphreys, G. R. Guillemaud, Neil Fraser and Thomas Hadfield; Reeve Alex. Lockley, G. H. Pullen, municipal clerk, and Councillors Albert Head and Thomas W. Platt.

OUTLOOK GOOD IN ESQUIMALT

Note of Optimism at First Council Meeting From Reeve Lockley

The new Esquimalt Council started its year's work last night with a 25-minute session highlighted by a statement by Reeve Alexander Lockley that "products are good" in the municipality for 1938.

The Reeve welcomed the council's two new members, Robert G. Humphreys and G. R. Guillemaud. He expressed the hope the coming year would see a particular effort on the part of the municipality to dispose of reverted property.

The Reeve announced the following standing committees.

Finance: Councillors Thomas Hadfield (chairman), Thomas W. Platt, and Neil Fraser.

Fire and Lights: Councillors Fraser (chairman), Guillemaud and Humphreys.

Intercity: The Reeve and Councillor Platt.

Public Works: The whole council.

The Reeve and the whole council will sit as the court of revision on the municipal assessment roll.

The council passed the usual formal resolutions authorizing the foreman of works to prepare the sewer assessment roll and introducing the annual loan and tax sale by-laws.

The audited financial statement was received and ordered included in the municipality's annual report.

Frontage Rate in Esquimalt Rises

Oak Bay Council May Stop Midnight Milkmen; to Look Also Into Dairies

An increase of 1 per cent per foot front in the Esquimalt net sewer frontage rate was indicated last night as the 1938 municipal council held its first meeting.

The council passed a resolution for the introduction at its next meeting of a by-law to authorize the appropriation of money from the sewer loan surplus to reduce the rate from 11 cents to 9 cents per foot.

For several years past the rate has been reduced to 8 cents with funds from the surplus.

The Reeve welcomed the council's two new members, Robert G. Humphreys and G. R. Guillemaud.

He expressed the hope the coming year would see a particular effort on the part of the municipality to dispose of reverted property.

The Reeve announced the following standing committees.

The council passed the usual formal resolutions authorizing the foreman of works to prepare the sewer assessment roll and introducing the annual loan and tax sale by-laws.

The clerk reported he had received 42 appeals up to yesterday afternoon, with another day to go.

Night Delivery May Be Stopped

Oak Bay Council May Stop Midnight Milkmen; to Look Also Into Dairies

Oak Bay residents may soon be spared the sound of the horses' hoofs and the tramp of the milkman as he dashes up back stairs in the early hours of the morning.

The council yesterday afternoon gave favorable consideration to a request from the South Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association, seeking that delivery of milk in the municipality be forbidden between the hours of 6:30 p.m. and 6 a.m. in winter and 6:30 p.m. and 4 a.m. in summer. The City Council recently adopted this suggestion and drafted a new by-law to this effect. Oak Bay will ask its solicitor to prepare a draft by-law and action may be taken.

The chief of police told the council that milk was being delivered at all hours of the day and night, some of the milkmen starting their rounds at midnight. No complaints had been received from residents, however, he said.

The whole subject of dairies then came in for discussion. Reeve Taylor wondered if dairies should be allowed in Oak Bay. He thought they must be very annoying to people living nearby. A report on the three in the municipality will shortly be made. The council felt some of the cows were probably being pastured on municipal property.

The council gave Ralph Rendle of Stanhope Dairy Farm, Cadboro Bay, the right to take all cut grass from the Uplands during the summer for $25.

Countess Jean de Suzannet, who, according to a further cable received in Victoria this morning, was, fortunately, not seriously hurt in the motor accident in which her husband received injuries to which he succumbed yesterday. Funeral services for Count Suzannet will be held in Paris tomorrow morning at 9.30. A group of Victoria friends have cabled flowers as a final tribute to his memory.

Clan Greet New Woman Chieftain

LONDON (AP) — The clan MacLeod gathered last night to the skirling of the bagpipes, to greet their first woman chief, Flora MacLeod.

Three hundred members of the clan assembled here in the Royal Empire Society's Building to maintain their traditions.

Mrs. MacLeod, the new chief, became the 28th head of the clan in succession to her father, Sir Reginald MacLeod, in 1935.

The clansmen heard the salute "Faile Mhicleod" unplayed, reportedly, for nearly 150 years. It was composed after settlement of a feud between the MacLeods and the MacDonalds in 1603.

YOUTH AND CHURCH

Miss Helen Kirkwood, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., was the guest speaker yesterday afternoon, and gave an interesting resume of the National Students' Conference held in Winnipeg recently.

She dealt particularly with the findings of the commissions on the student in relation to the church and society. The general fallacy that young people are not interested in the church and religious questions today was disproved at Winnipeg, Miss Kirkwood said. The various religions in Canada were frankly discussed, and certain practical recommendations governing the place and part of young people in church life were made.

Social problems and their causes were studied and discussed in their relation to young people, she recalled. Proper training for marriage for both men and women had been urged. In conclusion Miss Kirkwood touched upon the Y.W.C.A. and its work, which paralleled closely along the lines set down at Winnipeg.

Mrs. E. E. Beere, press secretary, presented a concise report. The evening auxiliaries show much enthusiasm, Mrs. A. S. Chisholm reported, and have contributed generously to supplies, at Christmas and in all the various activities.

The mission circles are giving splendid service, Mrs. W. H. Munsey reported, with a special tribute to the Chinese circle. She recorded $137.46 had been raised by the circles. Mrs. A. J. Daniels presented the report of the costumes department.

St. Mark's W.A. will hold a dance tonight at 8 in the Parish Hall when music will be supplied by a popular orchestra. Cards will be arranged for non-dancers.

Greetings Conveyed To W.M.S.

At Presbyterial's Banquet; Speakers Heard

Greetings from other denominations were conveyed to the Presbyterial of the United Church W.M.S. at the banquet held in the First United schoolroom last night, as the culmination of a busy day's sessions.

GREETINGS EXCHANGED

Mrs. George Guy, the president, presided at the prettily decorated head table, and seated with her were Mrs. E. Day Washington, Vancouver, president of the Conference Branch; Mrs. W. G. Wilson; Mrs. F. C. Nivin, president of the diocesan board of the Columbia W.A. to the M.S.C.C., the Anglican representative; Mrs. William Russell, representing the Baptist Church, and Mrs. Snider, representing the Victoria City Temple. Mrs. A. A. McKinnon, who was to have represented the Presbyterian Presbyterial, was unable to be present.

In addition to the greetings conveyed by the above ladies, Rev. Thomas Keyworth, representing the Victoria Presbytery, and Rev. Bryce Wallace, chairman of the Home Missions Board, addressed the gathering complimenting the W.M.S. on its accomplishments and wishing it every success in its undertakings. Mrs. W. G. Wilson also spoke, seeing in the interchange of ideas between the various churches as expressed in the greetings, the forerunner of a closer union between the Christian churches of the world.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Miss Ferguson suggested that the auxiliaries form a chain of prayer which should extend from Victoria to Halifax and Saint John. The suggestion met with unanimous approval and copies of the prayer will be sent to each auxiliary.

Mrs. E. Day Washington conducted the open forum and was helpful in answering many questions which had been submitted by delegates to the meeting.

Questions of finance, leadership and other matters of special interest to the members of the W.M.S. were discussed.

TEMPERANCE URGED

Temperance study is growing, Mrs. D. A. Girvin of Duncan noted in her report as retiring secretary of this department.

Educational campaigns were conducted by a number of groups. The speaker touched upon the necessity of legislation and public opinion against liquor advertising; of making social drinking unpopular; and of waging war against drinking scenes in films.

YOUTH AND CHURCH

Miss Helen Kirkwood, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., was the guest speaker yesterday afternoon, and gave an interesting resume of the National Students' Conference held in Winnipeg recently.

She dealt particularly with the findings of the commissions on the student in relation to the church and society. Engagement Announced

MISS VERA GRANROSE

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Granrose of Burdett Avenue announce the engagement of their only daughter, Vera Genevieve, to Gordon Clarence Minckler, second son of the late Mr. S. Minckler and Mrs. L. Fisher of Seattle, Washington. The wedding will take place at the Grace Lutheran Church on Easter Saturday at 8 p.m.

Society

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moore of Victoria are visiting in Vancouver, guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Meilicke.

Major and Mrs. Power Potts arrived in Victoria recently from New Valley, California, and will make their home here in the future.

Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Pemberton Road, who has been visiting in Seattle with Dean and Mrs. David Thomson for the last few days, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. W. E. Swan and family, of 2474 McNeill Avenue, Oak Bay, will leave on Monday for Vancouver, where they will make their future home.

Mrs. W. Sloan, St. Patrick Street, who was called to Vancouver on the death of her brother, Mr. Alec MacDougall, has returned to her home in Victoria.

Mrs. Stephen Thompson of Vancouver and her daughter, Miss Isabel Thompson, have been visiting Mrs. Thompson's sister, Mrs. Fagan, the James Bay Hotel, and will return to the mainland.

Mrs. James Adam was hostess at the tea-hour at her home on Richardson Street yesterday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. Fred Smith, wife of the district governor of Rotary, who, with Mr. Smith, is visiting here from Tacoma.

Out of town delegates attending the United W.M.S. conference here included Mrs. E. Day Washington, conference branch president, of Vancouver; Mrs. M. M. MacLennan, Vancouver; Mrs. J. Rogers and Mrs. A. M. Bell, Courtenay; Mrs. D. A. Girvin, Miss E. Van Roman and Mrs. G. Owens, Duncan; Mrs. W. Browning, Mrs. M. MacLennan and Mrs. J. H. Wright, Nanaimo; Mrs. Prior and Mrs. Port Alberni.

The women's auxiliary of the Victoria City Temple held a very successful "pussy willow" tea on Wednesday afternoon in the social hall. The guests were received by Mrs. R. E. Snider, assisted by Mrs. Bond, Mrs. A. L. Oakley and Mrs. Nelson Goodwin. Mrs. Jackson welcomed the guests. Solos by Mrs. Smythe and Miss Phyllis Deaville, readings by Mrs. Deaville and dances by the pupils of Miss Molly Milton were enjoyed. Mrs. Grace Deaville acted as the accompanist. Mrs. A. Peters, Mrs. J. McGuire, Mrs. W. Williams, Mrs. G. A. A. Hebdon, Mrs. D. Hull, Mrs. George Holt and Mrs. N. Phillips poured tea from tables centred with silver baskets of pussy willow and daffodils and yellow tapers in holders. The home-cooking stall in charge of Mrs. Taylor was well patronized.

The mission circles are giving splendid service, Mrs. W. H. Munsey reported, with a special tribute to the Chinese circle. She recorded $137.46 had been raised by the circles. Mrs. A. J. Daniels presented the report of the costumes department.

St. Mark's W.A. will hold a dance tonight at 8 in the Parish Hall when music will be supplied by a popular orchestra. Cards will be arranged for non-dancers.

Would Ban Liquor Ads.

United W.M.S. Takes Stand Against Drinking In Films

Resolutions petitioning the Provincial Government to prohibit liquor advertising in the press; and to restrict the sale of intoxicating beverages with a view to their total elimination were passed by the Presbytery of the United W.M.S. at its closing session this morning at the First United Church.

The gathering also went on record as strongly recommending the board of motion picture censors in British Columbia to protest to the producers and condemn for this province "scenes of social drinking which are attractively portrayed in many pictures shown in the theatres, thus working towards their elimination."

A resolution calling for the banning of the exportation of materials from Canada to warring countries was referred to the executive for consideration.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Officers elected at the final session were: Hon. president, Mrs. C. E. Sonley; adviser, W. G. Wilson; first vice-president, Mrs. Bryce Wallace; second Mrs. J. Hood; third, Mrs. J. H. Wright (Nanaimo); fourth, Mrs. J. Rogers (Courtenay); corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. H. Skellern; recording secretary, Mrs. W. F. Perry.

Lady Astor's Views Are Varied

Windsors Among Subjects She Discusses In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—As an attraction for sightseers, Lady Astor says she is not in the class of Hollywood film stars.

The Virginia-born member of the British Parliament encountered two movie dancers—Eleanor Powell and Ray Bolger—during a visit to the capital yesterday.

Miss Powell and Bolger are here to take part in President Roosevelt's birthday ball celebration Saturday.

At a tea, however, Lady Astor was the sole attraction. There she expressed her opinions on various subjects.

On the Duke of Windsor's marriage she said: "I think it's a tragedy and not a romance."

Of the present King and Queen: "She is absolutely superb. He is winning the affection and respect of the nation and the Empire, too."

World affairs: "I will tell President Roosevelt that unless the British Empire and the United States come together and operate together, you'll never get world order."

Armaments: "Unless the democracies of the world are armed, there will be no democracies."

Fascism: "Nobody ever heard of it until Communism came along. That's the greatest threat."

Women: "They are doing very well in public office, considering that they just got out of the class with paupers, lunatics and peers 25 years ago."

Lady Astor declared that democratic government in the United States is very "undemocratic." England, she said, has an edge there.

Founder's Day Tea Planned By I.O.D.E.

I.O.D.E. Founder's Day will be commemorated by the usual tea on Wednesday afternoon, February 16, it was decided at the monthly meeting of the Municipal Chapter yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Wm. Ellis, the regent, was in the chair.

The tea, which honors the memory of the late Mrs. Clark Murray, will be held at the headquarters and the municipal officers will have charge of the arrangements. The proceeds will augment the endowment fund.

Plans were made to entertain the delegates to the Provincial annual meeting on April 5, 6 and 7, and an invitation will be sent to the delegates attending the National Chapter meeting in Vancouver in May.

The educational secretary, Mrs. F. F. Beckett, gave an account of the students and asked that primary reports be sent to her as soon as possible. Mrs. J. T. Jones read the Echoes' report asking that the quarterly reports be sent in.

Mrs. George Mellor told of the distribution of Christmas hampers in connection with child welfare and reported letters having been received. Mrs. R. Shanks reported for the work-in-India fund; Mrs. Bob Shanks reported for Girl Guides, and Mrs. C. W. Plumb for soldiers' graves.

Reports were also given by Mrs. J. W. Hudson, on Christmas work; Mrs. P. Cunningham, the endowment fund, Mrs. Wm. Ellis on films. The secretary asked that all nominations for Provincial Councillors be sent in immediately, and also asked for the names of all members who had passed away during the year.

Mrs. L. Lucas, Mrs. G. Mellor and Mrs. C. W. Plumb were appointed delegates to the Local Council of Women.

The annual Municipal meeting will be held on March 24, when tea will be served by the Major John Hebben Gillespie Chapter I.O.D.E. Mrs. Bertha Parsons heads the nominations committee.

Prior to the business, the members stood in silent tribute to the memory of the late Lady McBride, Mrs. Smith and Miss E. Moore.

Carmen Rebekah Lodge No. 45, will meet Thursday evening in the Odd Fellows Hall, Douglas Street, at 7:30. Following a short meeting a dance and court will be held for the members and their friends. The lodge will hold an afternoon tea and bridge on February 16.

PARIS (CP-Havas)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor will move from their hotel in Paris February 6 to take up residence in the Versailles chateau owned by Mme. Paul Dupuy, it was learned today. They will live there six months.

Southern cotton growers, hoping for higher prices, are holding many bales in warehouses and even on outdoor "cotton lots."

APPLE QUEEN HERE TODAY

Isobel Stillingfleet Returned to Native Birmingham to Win Empire Honors

When she was two and a half years of age Isobel Stewart left her native Birmingham and came to Canada with her parents.

Last October, as Mrs. Isobel Stillingfleet of Kelowna she went back to Birmingham as "Canadian Apple Queen," and in her native city won further honors and became "Apple Queen of the British Empire."

This morning attractive Isobel Stillingfleet arrived at the Empire Hotel to give an apple packing exhibition at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

"I'm not yet over that strange coincidence—that I should go back to Birmingham to display Canadian apples," she said today.

Mrs. Stillingfleet grew up surrounded by the magnificent apples for which the Kelowna district is famous. In her spare time she packed apples for amusement.

HAS PERSONALITY

Last summer a contest was held to pick a representative of the Okanagan Valley to go to the Imperial Fruit Show in Birmingham. Personality and adeptness in packing apples were the chief points. Mrs. Stillingfleet won on all counts.

At Birmingham she competed in apple packing against two English girls and a New Zealander for the title "Apple Queen of the Empire." She won easily. Each day she was at the Canadian exhibit at the show and told thousands of English people all about British Columbia apples.

Then she went to London, had a long chat at Canada House with Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom and at British Columbia House talked with W. A. MacAdam, acting agent-general for this province in London.

Roy Hunter, of the Hunter Advertising Agency at Vancouver and Miss Betty Wallace came to Victoria with the apple queen. It was her first visit to the capital city of the province and she planned a long sightseeing drive for this afternoon.

TILLICUM CLUB

St. Aidan's Tillicum Club met Monday evening for their weekly meeting, with Barbara Dawson, president in the chair. During 1938, the club is planning to raise money to shingle the manse roof. Group 2 was in charge of the manse roof, and Group 1 in the form of "Stories of Our Hymns." The members that took part were Gilbert Brown, Barbara Dawson, Mrs. Griffiths, Edna Raper and Rosamund Turner. On Monday, January 31, group 3 will be in charge and the program will be of moving pictures, given by Rev. Clark of James Bay United Church. Plans are being made for Valentine social to be held on February 14.

WINDSORS MOVING

PARIS (CP-Havas)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor will move from their hotel in Paris February 6 to take up residence in the Versailles chateau owned by Mme. Paul Dupuy, it was learned today. They will live there six months.

Southern cotton growers, hoping for higher prices, are holding many bales in warehouses and even on outdoor "cotton lots."

Chicago-Canadiens In Smart Hockey Wins

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALEWAY

IF TOMMY FARR still figured he was robbed of the decision in his recent 10-round fight with Jimmy Braddock, after he had taken a peek at the motion pictures, then he must have been looking from a different angle than the writer, who viewed the film at the local theatre last night. Of course he might have been wearing dark glasses and missed a number of those left jabs Braddock kept pushing in his face throughout the whole route.

From what we saw of the fighting, and there was not a great deal of it, Farr had no squawks on the verdict. Braddock's left hand won him the nod. Every round he kept flicking it into the British heavyweight's face—and the lad from Tonypandy appeared to make no effort to get out of the way. Of course there may not have been much power behind the blows but they still count for points.

Good right-hand blows were something neither fighter seemed to know anything at all about. In the 10 rounds there was not a single right sock that landed hard enough to be heard on the sound machine. Farr attempted to throw a lot of punches and a good few of them found their mark on Braddock's mid-section but they never seemed to bother Jersey Jim as far as could be seen in the film.

Taking the fight all round it was certainly not one that either scrapper would want to boast about, in the opinion of the writer. On two or three occasions the boys really stood off and traded punches but every round saw plenty of clinching. Dempsey on Tunney at their peak would have kicked the gloves off either of the big fellows in four rounds or less. Braddock looked just what he is, a heavyweight of 32 years, while Farr was no better, a verdant scrapper of 22 summers. After watching Farr our opinion of Joe Louis took an awful slump. The negro heavyweight, holder of the world championship, could do little with Tommy over 15 rounds. He can't be so smart.

There was no doubt Farr was the fresher of the two at the finish, but that counts for little. Braddock shot everything he had in those last two rounds and that won him the verdict. His ring generalship throughout the entire bout was something that should prove a lesson to the Welshman. In nearly every round Braddock can be seen watching the clock and near the end of the three minutes' worked his way over to his own corner to be ready to drop onto his stool at the bell. He was not wasting any energy by having to walk across the ring.

The low blow which cost Farr the third round was clearly an accident. The two fighters were coming out of a clinch and as they broke clear, Tommy cut loose with a roundhouse right-hand swing and it caught Braddock just below the beltline. The punch did not appear to carry much force behind it and Braddock never faltered. Farr's actions at finish, after the decision had been announced, certainly drew a chorus of boos. Braddock is seen walking across the ring to shake hands but Tommy slips through the ropes and Jimmy is left standing in the corner as the fans howl.

Farr may whip Braddock in a return bout, if he can get it over 15 rounds, but he still has plenty to learn before ranking as a first-class scrapper. We hate to think what Max Schmeling, the cool-calculating German, would have done to him in that same ring.

Gottselig Paces Hawks to Victory Over Detroit 4-3

Feature Soccer Match Tomorrow

Intercity football will return to Victoria tomorrow afternoon when Victoria United and Vancouver St. Saviours meet at the Royal Athletic Park at 2:30 with T. M. Robb as referee.

The local eleven has engaged in two matches to date, losing to North Shore here and defeating St. Andrews at Vancouver.

ICE REFEREE IS CASUALTY

Bill Shaver Goes Down in Halting Fight at Spokane,
Vancouver Beaten

SPOKANE—Riding a three-goal barrage in the second period, the Spokane Clippers banged out a 4 to 2 victory over the Seattle Sea Hawks of the Pacific Coast Hockey League last night, in a contest marked by fast skating and fistcuffs. The loss was Seattle's first in nine games.

The fistcuff flurry came in the final minute, and Referee Bill Shaver was the only casualty. He went down with a bloody nose when he skated between Cam Proudflock of Spokane and Dave Downie, Seattle centre, and caught a wild swing. Both players were ousted.

The outburst followed a second period in which not a single penalty was called—the first "no foul" period of the season here.

SCORE SHUTOUT

PORTLAND—The Portland Buckaroos skated into the shut-out column with a 3 to 0 win over the Vancouver Lions in a Pacific Coast Hockey League game here last night.

The Buckaroos and Lions ended a listless first period with no scores.

In the second, both teams hit a fast pace and maintained it to the end of the game. Portland scored its first goal in 19:23, only a few seconds before the end of the period, on a neat pass from Ron Martin to Bon Gilmour, who whipped the puck to Eddie Outlette for the tally.

The Buckaroos' second score came in 6:58 of the third period when Gilmour took the puck down the ice. Percy Jackson, Lions' goalie, batted it from the net, but Martin scored on a rebound.

Sutherland made a solo dash the length of the ice for Portland's final score in 12:19 of the third period. Sutherland's feint drew Goalie Jackson to the side of the net, too late to stop the puck.

Wrestlers Will Perform at Tillicum Gym Tomorrow Night

"Cannibal" Kitzmiller, the rough-and-ready Portland mat artist, will return to the Tillicum gym tomorrow night, where he is booked to take on Ted Keys, former U.C.L.A. football star, in the six 10-minute semi-main event. Keys is plenty rugged and should make things interesting for the blustering Oregonian.

"Lofty" Blomfield, New Zealand heavyweight king, has been secured for the main go of eight 10-minute rounds, with Rusty Westcoat, Honolulu. Both are good wrestlers and should put on an entertaining bout.

Third period—6. Rangers, Shibecky (M. Colville, Kirk), 6:55. Penalties: Drouin, Watson.

CHICAGO-DETROIT

First period—1. Canadiens, Gouipille, 7:08; 2. Rangers, Dillon (Smith), 16:05; 3. Canadiens, Joliat (Lepine, Burke), 19:56. Penalties: Siebert, Coulter.

Second period—4. Canadiens, M. Drouin, Lorrain), 8:08; 5. Canadiens, Siebert (Drouin, Lorrain), 17:25. Penalties: Patrck, Gouipille, Coulter (minor and 10-minute misconduct), Mantha.

Third period—6. Rangers, Shibecky (M. Colville, Kirk), 6:55. Penalties: Drouin, Watson.

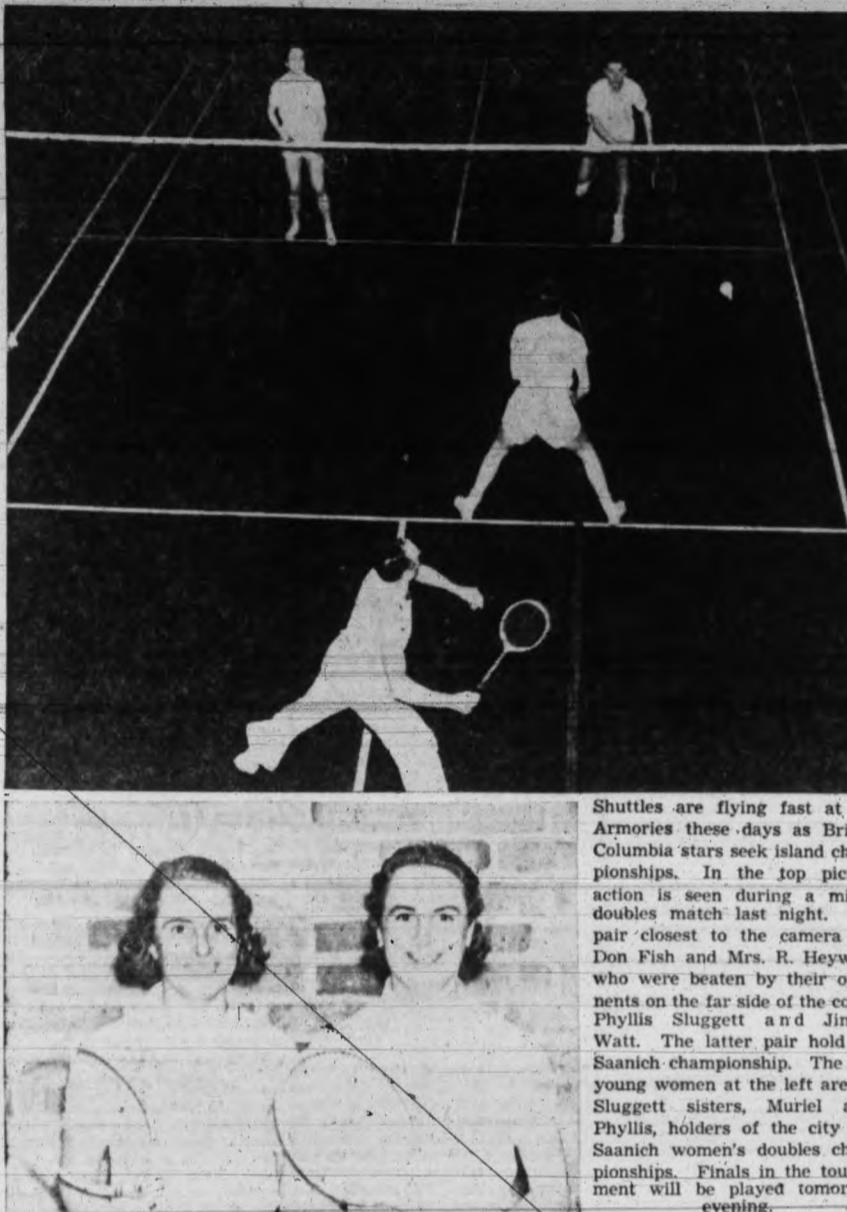

Farr may whip Braddock in a return bout, if he can get it over 15 rounds, but he still has plenty to learn before ranking as a first-class scrapper. We hate to think what Max Schmeling, the cool-calculating German, would have done to him in that same ring.

More Favorites Out of Tourney

Surprises Continue in Van- couver Island Badminton Championships

Elimination of favorites continued as the island badminton championships advanced through the second day's play at the Armories yesterday. Last night's surprises saw the defeat of Jimmy Watt, city and Saanich champion, and Phil Pearson, Vancouver, from the men's singles, and Pearson and Eleanor Young, strong Vancouver pair, from the mixed doubles.

Watt went to the sidelines at the hands of Tony Staples, Duncan, 14-17, 15-13, 15-3. After taking the marathon first set, Watt appeared headed to a win, but Staples won a hard-fought second set and then scored a walkaway in the third and deciding set. Pearson went out in another three-set battle at the hands of Roy Hurdle, 15-5, 8-15, 15-12.

Eric Leney, Duncan, defending champion, made his first appearance and won from J. Wells, Victoria, in straight sets, 15-2, 15-1.

Pearson and Miss Eleanor Young met defeat at the hands of the Victoria combination of Ralph Bagley and Mrs. J. A. Young, 15-4, 15-14. After a one-sided first set the mainlanders put up a keen fight in the second but were unable to pull through.

"Y" Asks More From Community Chest

Drive Caused Loss of $1,000, Annual Meeting Told

Returning the same slate as last year, the Y.M.C.A. board of directors re-elected H. B. Witter for his eighth term as president of the local association at its annual meeting held last night. W. T. Straith, M.P.P., was renamed vice-president; J. A. Heritage, recording secretary, and J. O. Cameron, treasurer.

Directors nominated for a three-year term were E. Harrison, J. V. Johnson, J. R. Nicolson, W. F. Pinfold, W. T. Straith and Alderman Archie Wills.

Detailed reports on the year's activities in each department of the association were presented to a large audience of members and friends, and showed a generally satisfactory progress in all divisions.

The entertainment program of the evening was a highlight of the meeting itself, Dudley Wickett contributing two excellent vocal solos and Robin Wood two piano solos.

FINANCIAL REPORT

In presenting the financial report, J. R. Nicolson stated there were two outstanding factors which influenced the general position of the Y.M.C.A. The 1937 March campaign produced a record result in pledges and their cash value. Pointed out as the unfavorable factor in the Y.M.C.A. financial status was the advent of the Community Chest, which caused a direct loss of membership and tag-day revenue of approximately $1,000, and an indirect loss of another $1,000 due to the loan of general secretary, Frank Paulding, to the Community Chest as organizer of their drive.

It was pointed out if the chest had not appeared on the horizon the Y.M.C.A. operating deficit of $578 would have been wiped out. The success of the chest, in which the Y.M.C.A. played a notable part, ensured the 1938 income, but negotiations were proceeding which it was hoped would arrange an adequate financing by the chest of the accrued liabilities and the special contingency involved in the necessity of replacing the roof.

The boys' department and camp expended $3,339.76, the income being $1,976.16. Expenditures in the physical department were $3,692.31. The income was $1,562.57. The income from subscriptions was $10,176.35 and the expenditures $472.32.

The financial report concluded with the statement: "1938 will be a year of experimentation with the Community Chest idea, and a great deal will depend on the wisdom with which that organization maintains its relationships with the agencies, particularly in the matters of recognizing their specific 'needs' as distinct from 'wants' in the distribution and checking of funds and in the collection of pledges due."

PHYSICAL DEPARTMENT

The weather played a large part in the physical department report, lowering attendances greatly in the first two months of the year. Despite the fact, however, the accumulated totals were 600 greater than last year. The report highlighted the fall circus, which drew 4,000 people, Bill Dale's outstanding performance as a member of the Y.M.C.A. track team and his resulting nomination to the Canadian Empire Games team.

A total of 2,146 sessions were held in the various divisions of the physical department with a total attendance of 29,578 boys and men. Reports in this division were given by the following: Badminton, Don Smith; senior leaders, Jack Allison; swimming clubs, Chris McRae; junior leaders, Grant Willis; track and field, Thompson and Pacific.

Next important he considered Thompson and Pacific; Goodwin Street, middle of block; just east of 645 Radcliffe Lane; five on Cadboro Bay Road; three on Upper Terrace Road. These would cost $662 and it was recommended they be included in the 1939 estimates. For the 1940 estimates, at a cost of $670 it was recommended that lights be established at Newton Street, Townley Street, Monterey and Tinto; King's Road, 500 feet east of Foul Bay Road; Yale Street, Lorne and Maquinna and Musgrave Street.

THE BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA HOLDS ITS 106TH ANNUAL MEETING

President J. A. McLeod sees business in Canada well maintained. Future trend favorable if not upset by disturbances beyond our borders.

General Manager H. F. Patterson emphasizes importance to Canada of world trade as aid in lightening taxation burden.

In addressing the 106th Annual Meeting of The Bank of Nova Scotia in Halifax, N.S., on the 26th instant, Mr. J. A. McLeod, President, spoke in part, as follows:

"When at some vantage point in the future, the chronicle of recent times is written, the historian may well describe the year which has just closed as one of momentous and sudden change. In the sphere of politics and economics, 1937 has been marked by a series of 'scares' and crises, the general effect of which is to convey an impression of growing confusion. While certain developments have been highly disquieting, others have been decidedly encouraging. To strike a balance, to distinguish the long-run trends from the changes of the moment, is a task which must be left to the historian. It may, however, be of some value to outline certain of the outstanding changes and particularly one or two of great significance to the immediate future of Canadian business."

The changes of which we are most constantly kept aware through the medium of the daily press are those in the broad field of international politics. Here, the picture has been one of increasing tension and warfare. In Spain, the civil war has continued throughout the year with indefinite results. The grave complications arising from this conflict, though recently overshadowed by the war in the Far East, still await solution. Japan's ruthless invasion of China and her disregard of international agreements and conventions have been reflected in numerous 'incidents' which have intensified an already strained situation.

"It is idle to deny that the methods of collective security embodied in the Covenant of the League of Nations have broken down over large areas of the world to be replaced by a system of power politics. Indeed, it is apparent that the world is dividing itself into armed camps, differing little from the situation prior to 1914. Over and against this, however, must be placed the wider recognition of the common interests of the three great democracies of France, Great Britain and the United States in the maintenance of the peace. This has been reflected in both official and informed statements in all three countries and especially in utterances of the President and Secretary of the United States.

"Now that the recovery in trade appears for the moment to have been interrupted, it is more important than ever that further steps should be taken to lower the barriers which still obstruct the flow of goods from one country to another. Today as formerly the power of initiative lies primarily in the hands of the great creditor nations and above all in those of Great Britain and the United States. For this reason, the recent opening of trade negotiations between these two countries is of the greatest significance. A treaty between the United States and Great Britain would tend to reduce the barriers to trade over a very large part of the world. A truly successful agreement would hold vast promise for the further revival of trade and thus for the continuance of world recovery. The price of success is a willingness to make concessions in the spirit of give and take, not only by the two parties directly involved but also by the Canada and the other British Dominions."

"One of the most favorable developments of the past year has been the notable expansion in the volume of world trade. Despite the multiplicity of economic and political barriers, the international movement of goods was substantially larger this year than in 1936 and indeed was close to the pre-depression level of 1929. According to the figures published by the Economic Section of the League of Nations, the aggregate volume of world trade was roughly 15% greater during the first nine months of 1937 than during the corresponding period of the previous year. The slow expansion of trade which characterized the early years of revival was accelerated in the latter half of 1936 and the first half of 1937. By the second quarter of the past year, the League of Nations' Index at length reached the level prevailing in 1929. While in the third quarter the upward movement was arrested and followed by a moderate decline, the Index still remained substantially higher than at any time in 1936.

"One of the principal reasons for this encouraging increase in international trade is to be found in the improvement in the relationship between the prices of raw materials and those of finished products which occurred in 1936 and in the early part of 1937. From the middle of 1936 to March of the past year quotations for raw materials rose substantially and in some cases sharply, while prices of finished products increased but moderately. Thus the large number of countries whose prosperity is heavily dependent upon the market for raw materials enjoyed an increase in the value and volume of their exports.

The effect of this development was in part to improve the trade balances of such countries and in part to permit a considerable increase in their imports. In this way, the stronger demand for raw materials on the part of the Government and a pronounced decline in the amount of inflationary deficit financing. In addition, purchase of equipment and supplies on the part of the railways has been considerably reduced. Inventory losses resulting from the fall in commodity prices, rising wage costs and serious labor disturbances had induced an attitude of caution in the business community.

In addition, the inflationary pressure of the huge volume of unused banking resources had been lowered by the financial measures taken last spring, while statements by government officials accentuated uncertainty as to the outlook for commodity prices and gold.

"In one respect the situation was similar to that prevailing in 1929. Raw material prices were declining and certain costs were tending to increase. There was, however, no serious accumulation of world stocks of raw materials such as that which marked the year before the depression. In other important respects, too, the situation was essentially different from and more favorable than that of 1929. There was no stringency in world trade, indeed there was still a plethora of idle funds awaiting investment. Though many of the heavy industries had experienced a marked improvement, there had been no sustained boom nor had there been more than a very moderate expansion in the amount of new construction. Furthermore, there had been no reduction in farm buying power but rather a substantial increase."

Stability of Foreign Exchanges Important Factor

"Another factor which has facilitated the improvement in international trade has been the approximate stability of the foreign exchanges. With the single exception of the French franc, the main currencies of the world have been fairly steady during the past year. Above all, the exchange rate between sterling and the U.S. dollar and the related currencies of the 'sterling bloc' and those which are in the orbit of the dollar have shown practically no change.

Background Does Not Indicate Another Depression

"In the light of these facts, it is clear that the economic background was not conducive to the onset of another depression. The rapidity of the fall in production, combined with the maintenance of retail sales at comparatively high levels, suggests that inventory adjustments may be made quickly. It is to be hoped, and I believe there are good grounds for the opinion, that the present contraction of business in the United States will prove to be no more than a temporary if severe recession, in character not dissimilar to those which occurred in the latter part of 1933 and in the summer of 1934."

Reflections of the Slump in United States on Canadian Business

"In face of the pronounced decline in production and employment to the south of the international boundary, business in Canada has been remarkably well maintained. The official indices of employment and production in this country have continued at peak levels during the period of recession in the United States. As an indication of the general trend, this Bank's Cumulative Index of Business in Canada reached the peak of the recovery movement in September and from then until November (the latest month for which complete statistics are available) has declined by only 1%.

"We should, however, be unduly optimistic if we were to assume that such a state of affairs could continue for long in the event of further deterioration in the United States. Our business and financial ties with that country are so close and its economic preponderance is so great that a continuation of recession in the neighboring republic would undoubtedly be reflected in contracting business there.

"It is well known, our domestic stock market has as usual followed that of New York, while in the last few months exports to the United States have generally been declining. Another striking result of the American slump is to be seen in the transformation, almost overnight, of the favorable outlook for the pulp and paper industry into one of doubt and uncertainty.

"It follows then that the immediate prospects for Canadian business depend principally upon the course of events in the United States. This is particularly true at the present time for here is little probability that the Canadian economy will receive added stimulus from its other great customer and creditor, the United Kingdom. Although business in Great Britain has not experienced any important setback, the upward movement has been arrested and according to the London Economist has been followed by some slackening in the rate of industrial activity. If the recession in the United States is soon halted and followed by a resumption of recovery, and this as I have already suggested is not improbable, Canadian business may well escape some at least of the difficulties with which the United States is now confronted."

Pronounced Improvement in Canadian Business

"Looking back over 1937 it is apparent that business in Canada was more stable than during the previous year. Production of minerals, forest products and manufactures as well as of many farm products showed substantial gains. Indeed, with the single exception of wheat, output of almost every major commodity was greater in 1937 than in 1936. From present indication, it appears that the lower revenue from field crops was more than offset by substantial increases in receipts from the sale of livestock and dairy produce.

"Yet despite the sharp reduction in the value of the wheat crop, occurring entirely in Saskatchewan, the net income of agriculture for the Dominion as a whole was probably greater in 1937 than in 1936. From present indication, it appears that the lower revenue from field crops was more than offset by substantial increases in receipts from the sale of livestock and dairy produce. The notable gains in the retail sales of country-general stores during the last few months in every province except Saskatchewan strongly suggests an improvement of farm buying power.

"While the railways were somewhat busier in line with the general increase in production, the improvement was limited by the small volume of wheat traffic. The moderate advance in the gross revenues of the two great lines arising out of the net increase in freight traffic was largely absorbed by higher operating expenses. As a result, there will be little or no reduction in the amount requested from the Dominion Government to cover the deficit of the publicly-owned system."

Canada's Foreign Trade and Business Recovery

"Last year, as in the preceding years of revival, the general upswing in business activity was largely attributable to the effects of increased export receipts. The greater income of the primary industries of mining, forestry and agriculture has resulted directly from improved conditions in foreign markets. The disbursement of export receipts, and the large amount contributed by the service trade, has been reflected throughout the entire structure of business. Among the secondary industries, not directly stimulated by external demand, those manufacturing consumers' goods were the first to feel the benefit of rising income in the export industries. With the steady increase in the national income, the need for replacement and enlargement of the country's capital equipment had been gradually translated into expanding demand with the result that production of durable goods, including construction work, has risen considerably. As I have already pointed out, the improvement in the durable goods' group was last year especially notable. The recovery generated by the enlargement of our export business has gradually tended to become cumulative, giving rise to a secondary expansion of production and rise in the price level, the national income of Canada was notably larger in 1936. A provisional estimate, based on general statistics of production and prices, suggests an increase of from 8% to 10% in the money income of the nation.

"One of the most encouraging features of this general improvement was the further marked advance in the volume of employment and the consequent reduction in the relief rolls. According to this Bank's estimates, which cover all industries except agriculture and the public services, there were on the average about 7% more wage-earners at work in 1937 than in 1936. At the same time, there was a marked reduction in the number of persons receiving relief, which, owing to the drought in Saskatchewan, was much greater. The last statement released by the Minister of Labor, that for November 30th, shows a total of 507,000 persons potential workers, their dependents and unemployed in receipt of relief. Though still very formidable, this total is approximately one-third lower than was the case a year earlier. In this connection, great credit is due to the National Employment Commission, which through its careful study has indicated the precise nature of the problem of unemployment relief and has recommended appropriate policies to assist in its solution."

Mining Sets Pace of Recovery

"Among the main industries, mining set the pace of recovery, closely followed by forestry. The official preliminary estimate places the gross value of mineral production in 1937 at a new record of $452 millions, 25% higher than in 1936. The greatest gains were shown in the base metal group, especially by copper and nickel, while gold production at a new all-time peak was considerably greater than in the preceding year."

Other Canadian Business Well Maintained

"The forests of Canada added substantially to the national income. The cut of timber was much larger than in the preceding year, both for pulp and for lumber. Newsprint output, indicative of the fortunes of the pulp and paper industry, increased by 14% and was greater than in any previous year. While the market for lumber has recently weakened in response to curtailed demand from Great Britain and the United States, the total value of the year's production was well in excess of that for 1936.

"In the field of manufacturing generally, the most striking development was the acceleration of improvement in the industries producing durable goods, such as iron and steel, machinery, automobiles and electrical apparatus. The rise in production and employment in this division of manufacturing was much more pronounced than in the previous year.

"Even the long depressed building trades were busier, though the value of construction contracts awarded during 1937 was still far below pre-depression levels. In response to rising individual incomes, and assisted by the Dominion Housing Act and the Home Improvement Plan, more houses were built and existing dwellings were improved. There was also a moderate increase in the construction of buildings for business purposes such as stores and offices. The greatest gain, however, took place in industrial construction, indicating that long-needed modernization and extension of factories was at last being undertaken.

"From the standpoint of agriculture the year was overshadowed by the unprecedented drought in Saskatchewan. The yield of wheat in that province averaged only two and one-half bushels to the acre and large areas harvested nothing whatsoever. Because of the almost complete lack of income over a great part of the province, the majority of the farm population is now dependent in varying degrees on relief payments.

"At times one sees criticism directed at the rate of dividends—in our case 12%—paid by the chartered banks to their shareholders, but such criticism does not take cognizance of the fact that the rate of dividend is not the real return on the shareholder's investment, which is represented by the combined Capital and Reserve Fund. Our Reserve Fund, which is largely made up of premiums contributed by shareholders on new issues of stock from time to time, is, as you know, double our Capital. When this is taken into consideration, the dividend paid in our case is only 4% on the shareholder's investment and this is the real return received by the shareholders. Even under present conditions such a rate can hardly be regarded as excessive.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE

GLASGOW (CP) — Scottish football teams return to league battles this weekend anxious to forget cup debacles in which three major squads were eliminated from the competition by inferior opponents.

Hearts, whose humiliating 3 to 1 defeat by Dundee United leaves them free to concentrate on the tussle with Celtic for the league leadership, have a hard match with Motherwell at Tynecastle Park. Last year the Fir Parkers won, 4 to 3, on the Edinburgh frontround.

Topping the league ladder with a three-point margin over Hearts,
Celtic — engaged in a Glasgow
Derby with Clyde on the latter's ground. On paper it looks like a walkover for the Celts with their opponents in seventeenth place, but the teams played a drawn game in the corresponding match a year ago.

RANGERS MEET
THIRD LANARK

Two more Glasgow rivals meet in Rangers and Third Lanark.
Six points behind Celtic, Rangers have been without a league victory since Christmas Day and will put up a big fight to return to the winding column. The Thirds occupy ninth position in the league.

Falkirk, tied with Rangers with 32 points, goes to Queen of South, and Aberdeen is favored to take maximum points from St.
Johnstone on their own ground at Pittodrie Park.

Dundee and Hibernians, who figured in cup upsets last Saturday, are both away from home. The former, humbled 4 to 3 by Aberdeen, go to Kilmarnock and Hibernians play Morton at Greenock. The Hibs went down,
3 to 2, before Edinburgh City, one of the second division's weakest teams, who had surrendered ground advantage to play on the Hibernian ground in the opening round of the cup.

In the second division, Ralith Rovers are in front with a five-point lead on East Fife. The Rovers oppose Cowdenbeath in the feature of Saturday's series of games among the junior teams.

WARDER AGAIN
HEADSBOARD

Esquimalt School Trustees
Re-elect Chairman, One
New Member

Trusted Major A. A. Warder was chosen chairman of the Esquimalt School Board for the fourth consecutive year last night as the 1938 trustees held their first meeting in Lampson Street School.

The board has only one new member, Trustee J. P. A. Christ-tensen, who headed the poll at the election last Saturday.

December reports submitted to the board showed attendance at the board showed attendance at the Lampson Street School was 92.5 per cent and at the high school 93.5 per cent.

The high school report also noted the formation of a student's council, in line with the suggestions of the provincial government's program of studies.

Oak Bay Public Health Is Good

Public health of Oak Bay, for the last six months of 1937, was exceptionally good, with few serious cases of infectious disease, Dr. W. P. Walker, medical health officer of the municipality, reported to the council yesterday afternoon.

"During August and September," the report said, "fear of spread of infantile paralysis by carrier cases led to the examination of all children coming from infected points before admission to school and a period of quarantine was instituted."

Church Revenue For Year $18,536

Metropolitan United Congregation Hears Encouraging Reports

The names of members who had passed away during the last year were read by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse at the annual congregational meeting of Metropolitan United Church, and the congregation stood while Rev. J. W. Churchill offered prayer for the bereaved, expressing also thanks-giving for the faithful and devoted Christian lives of the departed.

Mr. McIver, roll clerk, reported the total membership of the church as 949.

Dr. W. E. Harper, chairman of the board of stewards, reported a good year financially. In addition to providing for the ordinary operating expenses of the church, $5,284 was raised for the missionary and maintenance fund and $2,618 for improvements to church property. Bequests to the amount of $3,750 were received during the year. Total revenue for all purposes was $18,536. The treasurer, R. N. E. Harris, gave the detailed report of the year's finances.

Encouraging reports were given by the heads of each organization as follows: Trustee board, Arthur Lee; envelope committee, Mrs. Rae Baker; special events committee, J. O. Welch; budget committee, J. E. Runions; church school, A. J. Daniels; C.G.I.T., Mrs. R. Bewell; young people's society, Tom Wilson; choir, Miss Dorothy Parsons; W.M.S., Miss Grace Baker; evening auxiliary, Miss Louise Noble; mission circle, Miss Gwen Whitehouse; women's association, Mrs. J. G. Jones; chumby club, Mrs. R. J. C. Smith, and flower guild, Mrs. Aaron Read.

The pastor gave a full report of his activities during the five months of his pastorate in Victoria.

Apart from work pertaining directly to the church, the W.M.S. reported 1,057 calls made during the year on sick and shut-ins, and 275 pounds of literature sent to lumber camps. The Sunday School sent hampers at Christmas time to needy families, while the church was responsible for a large quantity of provisions being sent to the drought area on the prairies. A "poor fund" was maintained from which numerous people received help either of groceries or coal during the year.

Miss Dorothy Parsons sang two solos, accompanied by Edward Parsons.

Members of the Cherry Club served refreshments.

The report of the nominating committee resulted in the following additional names being added to the session and board of stewards: Session, J. H. Baker; honorary life: Ernest Campbell, Horace Johnson, H. T. Knott, Ed. Matthews, D. M. McIver, Aaron Parfitt and W. E. Staneland; stewards, W. I. Anderson, Austin I. Curtis, J. W. Graham, Ivan Green, Miss Hazel Sargent and H. L. Smith.

C. M'RAE DIES IN VICTORIA

VANCOUVER (CP) — Chris McRae president and managing director of the Alberta Lumber Company and a former member of the British Columbia Legislature, died here today. He had been ill only a few days.

Born in Ontario 63 years ago, he moved to British Columbia as a young man and founded a lumber business in the Kootenay district. About 40 years ago he moved to the coast, and with the few hundred dollars he possessed started the business he headed at his death.

Mr. McRae was elected to the Legislature in 1924 as a Liberal member for Vancouver. He did not seek re-election when his term expired.

Always a staunch friend of the British Columbia interior, he staged a filibuster in the Legislature with the late Charles Woodward and A. E. Munn to oppose closing down of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. The filibuster was successful.

He is survived by his widow, a son, Rod, and two daughters, Peggy and Joan.

CALGARY LIVESTOCK

CALGARY — Receipts today: Cattle 103, calves 29, hogs 254, no sheep.

Bulk of receipts on through billing: Cattle prices steady for quality offered. Common to medium butcher steers, 3.00 to 3.75; good heifers, 3.75 to 3.85; good cows, 2.75 to 3.00; good to choice veal calves, 5.00 to 6.50; common to medium 3.00 to 5.00.

No hog sales; yesterday's prices selects, 8.75; bacon, 8.25; butchers, 7.75.

Rearmament Message Fails to Boost List

SMELTERS OFF OVER A POINT

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock-buying ammunition apparently was lacking in the President's rearmament message today, and market leaders retreated fractions to 3 or more points before meeting support. A last-minute revival reduced or canceled losses in many cases.

The session was punctuated by intermittent dips and recoveries. The list turned upward in early proceedings, but quickly backed away after release of the chief executive's recommendations to Congress on expansion of the national defense.

Some in the financial sector appeared a bit disappointed that the suggested increase of 20 per cent in the authorized naval building program was not larger.

Others, though, thought the boost was all that could be desired at this time.

Gold mines were again an exception, Dôme and McIntyre touching new highs for more than a year. Homestake and Alaska Junee pushed higher. These cut their gains in subsequent proceedings.

A further cloud on the speculative horizon was seen in the sale of stock exchange membership for $65,000, a drop of $10,000 from the preceding transfer.

Bonds and commodities were uneven.

(By H. A. Humber Ltd.) Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

Thirty Industrials — 120.66, off 0.91.

Twenty rails — 27.35, off 0.52.

Twenty utilities — 19.15, off 0.17.

Forty bonds — 88.74, off 0.05.

Aden, Arabia

Near the southern end of Aden is the city called Aden. My ship anchored in the harbor early in the morning, and I lost no time boarding a motor-boat and going ashore.

A soft drink (water) stand in Aden

Aden and a stretch of land around it form a little British colony. The area is about 75 square miles, and the population about 60,000.

Some persons believe Aden is the "Garden of Eden" described in the Bible. Certainly it does not look like an earthly paradise, either past or present. The only native product is pumice stone.

The city itself is in the crater of a volcano. That seems a strange place for a city to be, but the volcano is dead, and has not been known to erupt in historic times.

Aden's history goes back 3,000 years or more. We are told it was once a centre of Phoenician trade, also that the Greeks, and Romans had control of it at different times.

Ethiopia won power over Aden about the year 550, and later it fell into the hands of Persia. Still later it came under power of Turkey, of Portugal and of Arab chieftains. Ninety-nine years ago this month, Great Britain took control of it, and has held it ever since.

Aden is a barren place, hot and not very beautiful. It has only three inches of rainfall each year on the average.

Since it is such a barren place, why should it be looked upon as important? The chief answer is that it is a trading centre. Caravans bring goods to it from many parts of Arabia—ostrich feathers, hides, dyes, Mocha coffee and so on. Boats from Africa, India and Europe come to the harbor with loads of goods which are traded for the wares of Aden.

For a long time Aden has also been important as a coaling station for ocean steamers. In recent years, it has been supplying many vessels with oil which is shipped to Aden from the wells.

In Aden there are water tanks to catch and hold all the rain water possible. These tanks are in a series, one lower than another. They were first installed 1,300 years ago. Water runs into the high sides of the volcano crater and is caught in the tanks. It is important to save water where there is as little rainfall as at Aden!

COUNCILLOR RE-ELECTED

CRESTON, B.C. (CP)—Councillor W. J. Craig was returned to office in the municipal election here Thursday when he polled 134 votes to 74 for ex-Reeve Frank H. Jackson. The election was held as an endorsement of the old council and its proposal to install a sewer system here this year. Mr. Craig will serve three years, other members being Reeve Edward Mallandaine and Councillor George Nichols.

Then They Will Keep Out Of Trouble

THE CRYING NEED of the day is jobs for middle-aged and elderly women. They would stop more fights, quench more tears, ease more heartburnings and do more to promote human happiness than any other things in the world.

For the idle oldish woman is not only a problem, she is a pest. Having nothing else to do, she stirs up trouble wherever she goes. She wrecks more homes and causes more divorces than rivers of drink and platoons of platinum blondes. If she were malice itself, she could not do any more harm, and the irony of the situation is that, on the contrary, she is nearly always a noble Christian character who intends nothing but good to her victims.

Her position is just one of the inevitable by-products of life. She married young and was caught up immediately in the rush and drive, turmoil and excitement, anxiety and work of making a home and rearing a family. There were 25 or 30 years of almost breathless struggle in helping her husband to get a start in business; in bearing children; in seeing that they were clothed and fed and educated; in getting them off to college; in giving the girls debut parties and launching them in society; in answering the almost ceaseless cry for "M-o-t-h-e-r"!!

During all those years, the woman was happy and satisfied and busy. So busy that the day was never long enough to get through with her tasks. So busy that she did not have time even to think about anything much outside of her home. And in her way she was an autocrat, obeyed, deferred to, the mainspring of the home, the one about whom all the family life centred.

Then the children grew up and went about the business of life on their own account. They married and set up homes of their own. Maybe the husband died. Then, suddenly, the woman who has been busy for so many years finds herself with nothing to do. Her hands are empty. Her only occupation is killing time, and she doesn't know how to do it. She doesn't know how to play. She has no interest in life except in her children.

And just because she is bored and doesn't know what to do with herself, she generally goes to live with her children, even when she is financially able to maintain her own home. Then comes in the inevitable mother-in-law trouble, for unless a woman is a self-abnegating angel she cannot live in another woman's house without trying to run it and meddling in all of its affairs.

Moreover, she feels that by virtue of being Mary's or John's mother, and because she is older and has had more experience, she has a right to advise them about every detail of their lives; is offended and hurt when they refuse to make pies the way she did and raises the children by her formula. The presence of a mother in her children's houses almost invariably means misery for all concerned.

That is why mother needs a job. She needs to be separated from her children for her own good as well as theirs. She needs an engrossing occupation that will fill in her time and keep her on the jump, so that she will not have leisure to indulge in self-pity. She needs the bucking up she gets from feeling that she is some use and that she is able to hold her own in competition with others, instead of just being a has-been who has degenerated into being nobody but John's or Mabel's mother.

Most women at middle age and into their 70's are strong and vigorous in mind and body, and if they would only realize how much happier they and their children would be if they lived by themselves and found something to do, they would hustle out of the back seat of John's and Mary's automobile and start out on their own. For life doesn't end at 50. It just gets into its stride, and for many women the best is yet to come if they will only go after it.

So I urge every middle-aged woman not to throw up her hands and quit, but to take up some new line of activity in which she can absorb herself and that will keep her on her toes. Globe trot. Join clubs. Go in for philanthropies and reforms. Get a job. You have no idea how much better you and your children will love each other when you are not dependent on them and don't live in the same house.

Slam Bidding

Four-five No Trump Convention Is One of Best-known Culbertson Devices to Locate Aces

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

SOLUTION TO PREVIOUS CONTRACT PROBLEM

The four-five no trump convention is probably the best known of the Culbertson slam devices.

Developed comparatively early, it was retained in the modern Culbertson system. When a player feels that he and his partner have an excellent chance of making a slam in the play of the cards, he bids four no trump to find out how many aces there are in the combined hands.

Contract Problem

(Solution in next issue)

North and South are using the Culbertson System, in which an opening no trump bid shows 4-3-3-3 distribution and about four honor tricks as a minimum, five as a maximum. Should North, after a one no trump bid by South, raise the no trump or show his major suit?

His bid shows two aces, plus a king in one of the bid suits, or three aces. His partner responds with five no trump if he has the other two aces or one ace and the kings of all suits bid by the partnership. (In that case, his partner's bid of four no trump must have been based on three aces.)

Today's hand shows a slam arrived at by this device. In the play, South won all of the tricks by a squeeze.

AIR SCHEME PROGRESSING

Main Set-up of Trans-Canada Air Lines Practically Complete

MONTREAL — The ground radio equipment established and in operation at Winnipeg, Regina, Lethbridge, Cranbrook and Oliver, and to be ready at Vancouver by the end of the month, the main set-up of the Trans-Canada Air Lines, providing two-way voice communication between planes and air ports, is now practically completed on the western section. Information to this effect is included in a progress report presented to department of transport by Philip G. Johnson, vice-president of the air-lines. Mr. Johnson is now on his way west on an inspection trip which will occupy several weeks and take him as far as Vancouver.

Trans-Canada Air Lines pilots, his report shows, are extending their training by making schedule flights between Winnipeg and Lethbridge and from Vancouver over the Rockies to Lethbridge.

"Regular operating procedure is followed on these training flights," Mr. Johnson says. "A flight plan is prepared by the dispatcher and the pilot before the plane takes off, signed clearance authorizations are obtained and when the flight is completed a report is submitted. In the simulation of actual schedule flight conditions, valuable experience is obtained by the personnel. In weekly meetings operating problems encountered during the previous week are discussed and conclusions reached for future procedure."

At present the Trans-Canada Air Lines have 24 pilots operating planes or undergoing training.

Despite winter conditions, progress in the construction of T.A.C. hangars at Winnipeg and Lethbridge is satisfactory, Mr. Johnson reports. Concrete foundations have been laid and the buildings are to be ready for occupancy by April 30.

DOUBLE TROUBLE

VANCOUVER (CP) — American tanker Aleutian Native ran into trouble twice yesterday when entering False Creek.

First the vessel snapped off her mast when she struck the span on Kitsilano Bridge and next she was delayed at the swing span on Connaught Bridge by a boom of logs which had swung across the fairway.

PENSIONED OFF A FIT MAN

Rigors of Police Life Did Not Harm Him

At 50 years of age he was presumed to be beyond the arduous demands of police duties. But was he? Read what he says now—five years after he was pensioned:

"I am a man of 55 years. It is now five years since I was pensioned off from the—Police. I went through thick and thin, day and night in all weathers, while I was on the Force, and am today as fit as any man still serving on the Force. People often ask me 'How do you keep so young?' and my answer is 'Kruschen Salts.' I have used Kruschen now for the last 13 years, and I will certainly use these Salts for the rest of my days." —W.J.

The numerous salts in Kruschen provide just that gentle daily aid your internal organs require to enable them to perform their work properly. These vital salts keep your liver and kidneys in top-notch efficiency, so that they help to free your system of poisonous waste matter. The result is a feeling of youthful health and vigor—"that Kruschen feeling!"

Railways Build National Wealth

S. J. Hungerford, C.N.R. President, Addresses Halifax Board of Trade

HALIFAX (CP) — Canadian railways, continuing to expand into new territories with natural resources to be developed, are leading in the work of increasing the Dominion's national wealth, S. J. Hungerford, Canadian National Railways' president, said here.

"It is quite true," he told members of the Halifax Board of Trade, "that in some cases the areas opened up by railway construction since the turn of the century, have not as yet reimbursed the nation for its railway investment, but it is too early to say that any section which has been supplied with these railway facilities will not eventually produce in wealth an amount sufficient to justify construction of the lines.

"Taken as a whole, the Dominion has been repaid many times over for its investment in railways," he continued. "It has been estimated that for each dollar expended in railway building, the national wealth has been increased by $6."

"At one point in the depression—1933—the gross revenues of the Canadian National Railways were $163,000,000 under the 1928 figure, or 52 per cent. Yet, I am happy to say that in the depression period, notwithstanding the statements you may have heard to the contrary, the Canadian National has succeeded in paying all its cash operation expenses and has earned something toward its interest charges," he continued.

In 1936, Mr. Hungerford said, operating ratio of the Canadian National was 91.9 per cent. Last year's figure, he expected, would be slightly less despite large increases in costs of labor and material.

"But the forecasts are heartening. We are greatly cheered by the increase in railway traffic which has occurred during the last four years," he said. "This increase has not been spectacular and it is apparent that we have not fully recovered from the effects of world economic collapse, from short crops in western Canada and the marked decrease in the construction of houses and buildings."

He instanced the C.N.R. gross earnings in the seven-year period from 1923, averaging $278,000,000 per year, contrasted with an average in the next seven years of $183,000,000. Gross earnings last year were $259,000,000, or 79,000,000 below the average during the 1923-29 period.

KING NEPTUNE LOADING

BERTHED on the south side of Pier A at the Canadian National docks, Ms. King Neptune this morning commenced loading 740,000 feet of lumber for Melbourne.

She will have a total of 5,000,000 feet of lumber and logs aboard when she finally gets away from British Columbia for Australia.

From here the freighter will shift to Vancouver to pick up 2,500,000 feet of lumber and logs and will complete at New Westminster and Port Alberni.

Coming out from Manchester in ballast the King Neptune was riding high as she lay alongside the dock. Her empty holds were hollow and reverberating as the first heavy sticks of timber were slung over the side and lowered below.

Capt. J. L. Ritch, master of the ship, reported a good passage of 35 days from Manchester. The only bad weather experienced was during the first week out from the British coast.

After clearing from San Pedro, Calif., where the vessel put in to replenish her oil tanks, it was like summer, the captain said. On arrival here the crew shivered.

Colored life preservers are being urged, to replace the drab ones in ordinary use, because an orange disk, for example, could be seen much farther off than grey or white.
